Trafficking and Sex Work

Gender, Race and Public Order

Edited by Mathilde Darley, Centre for Sociological Research on Law and Criminal Justice, France

Series: Interdisciplinary Studies in Sex for Sale

Set in different national contexts (Brazil, Bulgaria, France, Germany, Laos, Norway, Thailand) and in different social science disciplines, the chapters of this volume aim at questioning anti-trafficking policies and their practical impact on sex work regulation.

Building analytical bridges between different national contexts and relying on contextualized fieldwork in different countries, the book is of great interest for academics as well as for practitioners and/or activists working on sex and gender issues and migration policies. It also resonates with a broader literature on the construction of public problems in sociology and political science.
